MAIL TRAIN WRECKED

By Youthful Fiends Who Wanted to Rob the Passengers.

ENGINEER AND A TRAMP KILLED.

Three of the Gang Who Committed the Crime Under Arrest—One of Them Confessed His Complicity to His Sweetheart, Who Testified Against Him.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 20.—Train No. 6, the fast mail express on the New York Central road, was wrecked about a mile west of Rome. The disaster was the work of train wreckers. The engine and all of the cars on the train were ditched and completely wrecked. The engineer of the train, Nathan Hager, of Albany, and a tramp named William Bond, of this city, were killed. Bond's companion, John Macey, had his left foot cut off, and six others received injuries more or less serious. No passengers were hurt.

The wreckers had broken up the company's tool house near by and obtained a wrench and a crowbar, with which all the spikes and fish plates from two opposite rails on the south-bound track had been removed. The two removed rails were left in their places on the track.

When the engine struck the obstruction it was thrown from the track sideways and completely submerged in the mire, only the driving wheels on the left side being above the earth. The forward part was thrown twenty feet beyond the ahead of the engine and rolled down the bank so that it lay bottom-side up in the gully. The second car in the train and the mail clerks were working. was thrown on the top of the engine and both demolished.

The third and fourth cars were also ditched, the ends of each being broken. The fourth of the sleepers was thrown from the track completely across the track, so that the trucks were a distance from the rails. The second car was standing on end on its side, and the rear sleeper did not leave the tracks at all.

Engineer Hager went down with his engine, and must have been instantly killed. The fireman, Chris Wagner was badly injured about the head, and it is feared that he is internally hurt. The two tramps were stealing a ride on the forward end of the first mail car, directly in the rear of the engine.

This was the second attempt within three weeks to wreck this train near the same spot, which is an ideal one for the commission of such a crime. It is on a heavy down grade, and trains usually run down it at the rate of sixty miles an hour. This train, not stopping at Rome, generally goes down the grade at a greater rate of speed, and it is believed here that yesterday it must have been running close to seventy-five miles an hour in order to make up a few minutes' lost time. There is not a house within half a mile of the place.

Three young fellows, aged 18 to 19 years, have been arrested for wrecking the train. They are J. Watson Hildreth of New York and Fred Bristol and Herbert Plato of Rome. Hildreth has made a confession implicating the other two, and Theodore Hibbard, who has not been apprehended. Their object was robbery.

The inquest over the bodies of Hager and Bond was commenced last night. The principal witness was Miss Celia Perryn, with whom Hildreth kept company. She testified that Hildreth came to her home on Cottage street and told her all, acknowledging that he took part in wrecking the train. When they parted he told her she would probably not see him again, for he expected to be arrested, as he had lost his hat containing his name. He asked her to telegraph to his father, J. Homer Hildreth, New York, and tell him he was in trouble and to come immediately, and she said she did as directed.

When Hildreth left her he said he was going to see the wreck, and told her she ought to go, for it was a sight. He told her also that they did it to rob the passengers. He said all he did was to lead the boys to the place.

The city hall, in which the police station is located, is surrounded by a large crowd, who express freely the opinion that the train wreckers should be lynched. The night and day police force is on duty to prevent trouble.

Two Killed in an Alabama Feud.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 20.—As a result of a feud between the Handley, Jones and Kilgore families Joe Kilgore and John Jones are dead and John Handley is fatally injured. Yesterday John Handley, accompanied by Frank Kilgore, a relative, went to Oak Run to transact some business. Both men carried their rifles. Jones and Joseph Kilgore, a cousin of Frank, followed and overtook them near Marietta. A pitched battle followed, each man firing until his weapon was exhausted. Fully two dozen shots were exchanged. Frank Kilgore, who was unhurt, has fled.

Only Four Were Saved.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Particulars of the loss of the Italian bark Brom Carlo off the Horn have reached this city. The bark collided with the British ship Condor, and it is now known that not only was the Brom Carlo sunk, but that only four of her nineteen men were saved. Three men were rescued from the sinking bark when the accident occurred, and a fourth was picked up by a passing ship. All the officers and fifteen sailors went down with the vessel.

Wemple "of Unsound Mind."

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., Nov. 20.—Ex-Comptroller Edward Wemple, who is charged with arson, was examined as to his sanity last evening by a commission of doctors. The physicians reported that Mr. Wemple was of unsound mind, and a person fit to be cared for at an insane asylum, but in their report they crossed out the words "is insane." On this account Judge Wendell refused to sign the commitment papers.

Collegians as Burglars.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Nov. 20.—The mystery of the burglaries that have been baffling the police for three weeks past was solved yesterday by the arrest of C. C. Humphry, of Unadilla, and C. C. Miller, of Batavia, two Union college students, the former a sophomore and the latter a freshman. A wagon load of stolen property was found in the prisoners' room at North college.

Hanlon Wins the First Heat.

GALVESTON, Tex., Nov. 20.—The first heat of five to be rowed during the present week on Dickinson river between the professional oarsmen, Bubear and Hanlon, for the championship of England and a $1,000 purse, the winner of three heats to be the victor, was won yesterday by Hanlon by a boat length.

Threatened Lynching in Kansas.

EMPORIA, Kan., Nov. 20.—David Henderson, the Dunlap township colored school teacher who on Monday night run amuck, gave himself up to the officers in this city yesterday. He was taken back to Dunlap and jailed. Great excitement exists, and there is talk of lynching the negro. Mrs. Tom Starkus and Mrs. Ray, two of Henderson's victims, cannot live, while Tom Starkus' wounds are considered dangerous.

Ill Health and Suicide.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—John M. Gano, a city marshal attached to the Eighth district civil court, shot himself dead yesterday afternoon in his room in the court house at Twenty-third street and Eighth avenue. The reason for the suicide is supposed to have been sickness, he being a sufferer from chronic dyspepsia.

MARVELOUS STRIDES.

Ex-Minister Smith on "National Development."

SECRETARY CARLISLE ON FINANCE

Notable Addresses at the Annual Banquet of the New York Chamber of Commerce. How We Are Outstripping the Nations of the Old World.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The 127th annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce of the state of New York was held at Delmonico's last evening. The yearly dinner of this organization are among the most important events of the metropolis and that of last night was no exception. Utterances that have moved the policy of the government have been made on these occasions, and it was at one of the chamber's dinners that Secretary of the Treasury Windom was stricken with sudden death a few years ago.

It was somewhat after 9 o'clock when President Orr rapped for order, and in a brief speech, in which he referred to the Armenian atrocities, introduced Secretary Carlisle, who spoke on "Our Currency System." In the course of his lengthy redress Mr. Carlisle said:

"In attempting to provide a circulating medium consisting of its own notes redeemable in coin on presentation and reissuable after redemption, the government of the United States is engaged in a business for which it is wholly unfitted and which was never for a moment contemplated by its founders. It has a right to borrow money and issue evidences of the debt, and it has a right to coin money and regulate its values—that is, to declare what the relative values of the metals shall be in the coinage—but it was never contemplated that it should convert itself into a bank of issue and furnish a legal tender paper currency for the use of the people. It has no department or agency properly organized or equipped for the transaction of such business, even if this were a legitimate governmental function. The treasury department ought to be, and was intended to be, simply a public agency for the management of the fiscal affairs of the government—as a government, not as a bank.

"No change that can be made in our currency system will afford the relief to which the government and the people are entitled unless it provides for the retirement and cancellation of the legal tender United States notes. Anything less than this will be simply a palliative, and not a cure, for the financial ills to which the country is now subject. The circulation of legal tender United States notes has a tendency to drive out of use and out of the country the very coin in which the government is compelled to redeem them, and it has expelled millions of dollars from our borders. Although the government and our own people are compelled to receive them, they will not discharge international obligations, and gold must go out to settle all final balances against us.

"The United States note was a forced loan from the people to the government which the government promised to pay in dollars, but the free coinage of legal tender silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, or at any other ratio not corresponding with the commercial value of the two metals, would be a forced loan from the people to the owners of silver mines and silver bullion, without a promise of repayment by anybody. One loan was forced for the benefit of the government in a time of war, but the proposition of the advocates of free coinage is to force another loan for the benefit of private individuals and corporations in a time of profound peace.

"But the United States legal tender notes will remain to complicate the currency system and embarrass the government until the people, through their representatives in congress, agree upon some plan by which they can be retired and some other form of currency substituted in their place, at least so far as the necessities of the country may require such substitution. In my opinion legislation in this direction at the earliest possible day is imperatively demanded by every substantial interest in the country."

Secretary Carlisle's speech was frequently applauded, especially that part where he committed himself to sound money.

He was followed by United States Senator J. C. Burrows, of Michigan, who spoke on "Our Domestic Commerce."

Charles Emery Smith, of Philadelphia, ex-minister to Russia, was the third speaker, his toast being "National Development and Opportunity." Mr. Smith spoke in substance as follows:

"Ours is a land of fullness and not of famine. Providence has dowered us with matchless opportunity and the world's evolution unfolds before us the crowning destiny of mankind. The merchant princes, even of middle age, before me have within their own business lives seen our young republic pass and outstrip all the old nations, hoary with the moss of a thousand years. In the two decades from 1870 to 1890 the three mighty powers of Great Britain, France and Germany, all combined, with their 125,000,000 people, gained in wealth $30,000,000,000, while the United States alone, with its 60,000,000 people, gained $38,000,000,000.

"The examination of national earnings tells the enkindling story of triumphant advance. Great Britain is estimated to earn about $6,400,000,000 a year, France $5,000,000,000 and Germany about the same, while the United States earns over $12,000,000,000, or two-thirds as much as all the other three put together. If we were not such magnificent spenders how we should astonish ourselves in stupendous savings. But spending makes consumption, and consumption makes production, and as we are the greatest consumers so we are the greatest producers in the world. Today we earn two thirds as much as the three great powers of Europe combined. Soon we shall leap beyond them. From 1870 to 1890 Great Britain increased her earnings $1,600,000,000 a year, and France the same, but our republic expanded her's by $5,000,000,000 a year.

"England has certainly in the past been the industrial beehive of the world. In 1890 the product of our manufactures was but little more than half of hers. In 1890 it more than doubled her output. Her increase was $1,200,000,000, while ours was about $7,000,000,000. Our expansion in industries was more than twice that of England, France and Germany put together. Through this amazing development we manufacture over one-third of all that is manufactured in the world, and we use and consume the bulk of this colossal proportion among our own people, who are the best paid, best housed, best fed, best dressed, best schooled people on the face of the globe.

"In the great race of nations the powers of the Old World are heavily handicapped, while the lithe, supple, sinewy young giant of the New World strides forward free and unhampered. Their debts are piling up; ours are melting away. Their taxes are rising; ours are falling. Their expenditures are frightfully swelling; ours are relatively declining. Their productive forces are stripped for arms and armaments; ours are at the plough, the forge, the loom and the exchange—the tools of wealth and not of waste.

"England's taxes are 10 per cent. of her earnings, France's 13 per cent., and Germany's 10½ per cent., while ours are only 5 per cent. England spends on one-sixth of her local taxes and one-twelfth of all her revenues for poor relief, and only one-seventeenth for schools. The United States spends one-sixth of all her national and local income for schools, and the demand for poor relief is only a beggarly item. The contrast is the key of the future.

"And we are only at the threshold of our development. Most of the growth I have briefly portrayed has come within twenty years. Who shall grasp the advancement of the next twenty or thirty years, or picture the dazzling destiny of the next century? Perhaps half the men within the sound of my voice will live to see our republic an overtowering nation of a hundred millions of the most enlightened, the most energetic, and the most progressive people God ever created. Our spirit, if not our flag, will rule the hemisphere. The Nicaragua canal, constructed by American capital and owing allegiance to American control, will open through the continent the highway of the sea, and New York, wresting the financial scepter from London, will stand like another Venice of the earlier and narrower days, as the focus and emporium of the world's wide commerce between the Orient and the Occident."

Letters of regret were then read from President Cleveland and Governor Morton.

"Ethics in Politics" was the toast responded to by the Rev. Wooley Striker, LL. D., president of Hamilton college.

In the course of a toast to "The City of New York," Mayor Strong said: "I am going to say just a word about politics. I have been told by some people that I am not a good politician. I realize that the statement is a true one, but I shall go on to the end of my term acting as I think best for the people of this magnificent municipality."

A Reign of Lawlessness.

HAZLETON, Pa., Nov. 20.—John Osefsky, his wife and his brother Peter were yesterday sent to Wilkesbarre jail to await trial on the charge of having murdered John Kokowski, under the verdict found by the coroner's jury. Last night the jury considered the shooting of John Holodock at Minersville on Sunday night, and brought in a verdict of deliberate murder against John Bolnick, who was sent to jail today. Two more highway robberies occurred yesterday, and one will probably add to the murder list. John Rouck, a driver for a local beef company, was held up at Lottimer, and at the point of a revolver was compelled to empty his pockets. William Walton, while driving an undertaker's wagon near Ebervale, was shot at twice. Last night John Habela was waylaid by masked men near Cranberry and robbed of $50. He was kicked into insensibility, and the doctors say he will die. Frank Dooey is under arrest on suspicion. There is talk of organizing a vigilance committee to check the atrocities.

ANOTHER DEFENSE OF TERRELL.

Missionaries Owe Their Lives to His Persistent Efforts in Turkey.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Rev. George Washburn, president of Robert college, Constantinople, writing from there to a friend in America, speaks as follows of the United States minister to Turkey, Mr. Terrell:

"Mr. Terrell has been so bitterly attacked that it seems to me that at this critical moment in his mission the president ought to know the facts about him, that he may not unintentionally do him injustice.

"He is a brave, honest man, with a warm heart, and is enthusiastically devoted to his work of defending all American interests in Turkey. No man ever tried harder to do his whole duty, and the attacks upon him have often been shamefully unjust, and generally—when they have come from responsible parties—they have been based upon a partial knowledge of the circumstances. This is specially true of the last eight or ten months. I think many missionaries in the interior owe their lives to his persistent efforts with the Turkish government."

Held for Brutal Assault and Robbery.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—The police have arrested "Kid" Hubbell, alias "Buffalo Kid," charged with assaulting and robbing Mrs. E. F. Mack, of Detroit, on Sept. 26. Mr. and Mrs. Mack were on their way to Detroit, and had taken the state room in a sleeper on the Wabash train here. Mrs. Mack was alone in the state room, her husband having gone to the smoking compartment. Suddenly a man entered, and after warning Mrs. Mack to be quiet if she valued her life proceeded to take everything in sight. Mrs. Mack was so frightened that she was unable to speak until he grasped a small satchel containing money and jewelry to the amount of $400. Then she grappled with him. The man pulled her from the state room to the platform of the car, beating her in a brutal manner. Mrs. Mack hung to him, but on the platform the fellow managed to beat her down and escape.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—T. H. Williams, president of the California Jockey club, and lessee of the Bay District track, encountered Edward Corrigan, the Chicago turfman, in the Palace hotel last night and the two men shortly became involved in a dispute over racing matters. Corrigan made an attack on his youthful and slender opponent. Before it could do any damage, he found a muzzle of a revolver jammed against his ear but out, and nearly died on the floor. Before Williams could pull the trigger, Corrigan threw up his arms, while the crowd of Corrigan rushed him out.

Quick and Irving Collins.

Fatal Collision on Brooklyn Bridge.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—A serious accident, due to the dense fog, occurred on Brooklyn bridge yesterday. While on the way to Brooklyn a train was forced to stop about 200 yards from the Brooklyn station. A train behind came along, and the brakeman on the rear train, thinking all was clear, went ahead at full speed. A serious collision was the result. Several cars were telescoped, and the conductor and several passengers were severely hurt. Thomas Cooper, the conductor, 28 years old, had both legs cut off, and George Grannit, a pharmaceutical student, 27 years old, had his left foot cut off and received internal injuries. Both men died after being taken to the hospital.

RUSTEM PASHA DEAD.

For Years Turkey's Representative at the Court of St. James.

EULOGIZED BY LORD SALISBURY.

But a Few Hours Before the Distinguished Turk's Death the British Premier Paid Tribute to His Genius—A Panic Among Armenians in Constantinople.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Rustem Pasha, for years the representative of Turkey at the court of St. James, died last night. Rustem Pasha has been in failing health for a long time, and his retirement on a pension on this account was discussed as long ago as last February.

In a speech before the National Union of Conservative associations at Brighton yesterday Premier Salisbury referred at length to Rustem, whom he feared would not recover from his illness. The prime minister spoke especially of the former administration of Rustem Pasha at Lebanon, and said he was convinced if men like him had been placed in charge of the districts where all these Turkish horrors have occurred the conscience of Europe would never have been racked by all these tales of suffering and terror. If there had been men round the sultan like Rustem Pasha present conditions would not exist.

Lord Salisbury added: "I do not see who the men are who are to stand as representatives of the Rustem Pasha type of officials at the sublime porte. I exhort you to consider that the terrible Armenian problem is quite as much one of competent men as one of adequate law; that the mere writing of new provisions upon fresh decrees cannot supply the places of governors who know how, and what is equally important, who have the courage and integrity to do their duty.

"I have no doubt but the powers will do their best. But do not imagine that deep seated diseases in an empire can be cured by the wave of a magician's wand. The result of long years of error will have to be paid for, and cruel and inexorable is the law that those will pay who were not originally guilty of the offenses."

In speaking of Great Britain's efforts to restore order in Turkey Lord Salisbury said:

"Great Britain forms part of a concerted Europe, which has resolved, so far as it acts, to act with unanimity. Some persons seem to imagine that we, the people of Great Britain, can dispose of all of the decisions of all the European powers. This is crediting us with more influence than we possess. Whatever is done must be done with unanimity, and we can only speak in behalf of one of the powers which will concur, if the powers do concur in any action which may be taken.

"I will not admit that the responsibility of any of the decisions taken rests entirely or mainly on this country. The responsibility is upon us and upon all the powers in common. All those who have this responsibility must act together, so that if there are others who cannot agree to act with the powers, those others cannot have their own way. But I am in no wise desirous of intimating that the slightest shade of disagreement up to this moment has arisen between the powers."

A dispatch to The Times from Constantinople notes the commencement of a panic among the Armenian tradesmen of that city. These Armenian traders have declared their intention of closing their shops. They assert that Constantinople is now unsafe for them.

Another dispatch announces the arrival at Smyrna of the French squadron.

Terrorized by Wild Beasts.

DELAWARE, O., Nov. 20.—Citizens of Thompson township, this county, are being terrorized by a lioness and two leopards which escaped from a circus some time ago, and traveled from Marion county. Many sheep and calves have been killed. Farmers go to their field work heavily armed, and travel after night has been entirely stopped. A neighborhood hunting party will be organized to slay the beasts.

Motorman Rogers Out on Bail.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 20.—Late yesterday afternoon Myron T. Herrick and S. S. Warner signed a $15,000 bail bond, and August Rogers, the motorman on the car that plunged through the Central Viaduct draw last Saturday night, was given his liberty.

Stamp Counterfeiter on Trial.

AUBURN, N. Y., Nov. 20.—In the United States district court, before Judge Coxe, Mary T. McMillen, alias Mary Mack, is on trial for counterfeiting United States postage stamps to the face value of $30,000. Nathan Herzog, of Chicago, a tobacco dealer, and Edward Massouth, a stamp dealer, of Chicago, both testified that they ordered stamps from the Novelty Supply company, but refused to accept them because of the counterfeits. George E. Lawrence and Homer H. Drew, clerks in the office of the Wells-Fargo Express company at Buffalo, identified the woman as the one who expressed the stamps to Chicago.

The Housesmiths' Strike in New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The strike of the Housesmiths' and Bridgemen's union continues, and work is at a standstill on most of the new buildings under way in the city. The Iron League issues a statement declaring that while the strike is ostensibly for higher wages it is really to force the members to employ only union men. It has always refused to discriminate against non-union men, the league declares, and it asserts that most of the men are not in sympathy with the strike, and are acting under coercion.

The Naphtha Fire at Whiting, Ind.

WHITING, Ind., Nov. 20.—The fire at the Standard Oil company's works here was brought under control yesterday. No lives were lost, according to the company's reports, and the damage amounts to $50,000. The tank in which it started contained about 30,000 barrels of naphtha. By attaching three pumps to the tank and utilizing every available hose the employes were able to get out a large portion of the naphtha.

A FAIR DOCTOR OF MUSIC.

Annie Patterson, Secretary of the Great Irish Feis In Dublin.

"The harp that once through Tara's halls the soul of music shed" will no longer hang mute "on Tara's walls as if that soul were fled." The Feis Beltaine, the old Celtic festival, is to be revived in Dublin this month, and like the Welsh Eisteddfod, which it somewhat resembles, will be an annual musical fixture in Ireland hereafter. The Feis of ancient times was held each May day, and the national songs, dances and games of Ireland were features of the programme. All these will be revived in their pristine glory, Irish bards will discourse sweet music on the harp and bagpipe, Gaelic words will be sung to old Gaelic melodies, and the age of minstrelsy immortalized by the pens of Moore and Scott will return in a modernized form.

Prizes will also be offered to develop if possible a new school of composers in Ireland, and the old music of the country that has been passed from lip to lip by the peasantry for centuries will be written and published and thus preserved in a tangible form for all time. Many of Tom Moore's world famous "Irish melodies" were ancient Celtic tunes that had been transmitted by ear for generations among the Irish peasantry. These tunes were written and revised, presumably for the first time, by Sir John Stevenson. Moore's ready pen supplied the words.

DR. ANNIE W. PATTERSON.

The most prominent musicians in the United Kingdom are interested in the Feis. Dr. Charles Villiers Stanford, professor of music at Cambridge university, an Irishman and a great composer, is at the head of the revival, and the secretary of the Feis is Dr. Annie W. Patterson, who is said to be the only woman in the United Kingdom, the Princess of Wales excepted, who is a doctor of music. She received her degree from the Royal Irish Academy of Music for an original cantata, "Fenola." Miss Patterson is a native of County Armagh, Ireland, and is a young and handsome woman of brilliant attainments. She is conversant with half a dozen languages, is an encyclopedia of music lore, and has composed numerous cantatas of rare merit.

EDUCATOR AND MISSION WORKER.

Merrill Edwards Gates, the New President of the American Missionary Association.

Merrill Edwards Gates, the new president of the American Missionary association, is also president of Amherst college and holds high rank as an educator. He was born in Warsaw, N. Y., April 6, 1848, and was the son of Hon. Seth M. Gates, who was conspicuous in congress before the war as an abolitionist. On his mother's side he is a descendant of the two Jonathan Edwards, father and son, the elder of whom was once president of Princeton and the younger president of Union college.

President Gates was graduated from Rochester university with the highest honors and became principal of Albany academy, a school that was advanced to a most enviable position among the schools of the Empire State. The attendance increased from 70 to over 300 during his regime, and his growing fame as an educator caused him to be called to the presidency of Rutgers college in 1882. He held this office for eight years, during which the number of pupils at the college was doubled and the institution enjoyed wonderful prosperity.

In 1890 Oberlin and Amherst both sought his services as president, and he accepted the Amherst offer. During the five years that he has been in control of the affairs of the college it has received hundreds of thousands of dollars in endowments and has shown in numerous other ways that a master mind was outlining its policy. In 1884 he was appointed a member of the United States board of Indian commissioners and he has been prominently identified with civil service reform, ballot reform and other movements to promote better government and better citizenship. In 1880 he received the degree of Ph. D. from the University of the State of New York, that of LL. D. from both Princeton and Rochester in 1882, while from Columbia he received the degree of L. H. D. in 1887 and that of Sc. L. D. in 1891.

Matrimonial Item.

Mrs. Youngcouple—You must have a very uncongenial husband. Why, I heard you ask him as many as 20 questions this afternoon that he made no reply to whatever.

Mrs. Perfilady—Oh, dear George is used to me. He knows that I ask questions simply to amuse myself.—Texas Siftings.

The Last Lament.

I am not "The Man Who Broke the Bank,"
Or "The Two Little Girls In Blue."
I'm not "The Girl That Came Back Next Day,"
Nor am I "Dorgan, Tender and True."
I'm no relative to "Daisy Bell"
And never be sold fair "Marguerite,"
While, as for "Comrades," why, we pass by
On very opposite sides of the street.
I've never monkeyed with "Sweet Marie,"
Nor have I flirted with "Sweet Louise."
"My Pearl Is Not a Bowery Girl,"
For I am not so easy to please.
"The New Girl That's Coming" is naught to me,
Though "Her Yellow Hair Is Hanging Down,"
And I won't not "Play In Your Back Yard,"
If I could help it, for all the town
I've no regard for "The Girl I Left,"
Nor yet for "What the Wild Waves Say."
My "Sweetheart Isn't the Man In the Moon,"
So I don't have to "Push Dem Clouds Away"
In fact, I'm not of a musical turn,
And why I've attempted to pen this scrawl
Is because I'm a crank to a hand organ,
And I'm tired to death and sick of them all.

SICKNESS WITHOUT SYMPTOMS.

A DISEASE THAT DOESN'T MAKE YOU FEEL SICK TILL TOO LATE.

Symptoms are Nature's Danger Signals. Bright's Disease is Dangerous Because Its Danger Signals are so Weak.—Kidney Troubles and How to Cure Them.

Bright's Disease has no symptoms.

That is, of course, it has some symptoms, but they are so common that everybody suffers from them more or less.

And yet we have not all got Bright's Disease.

We nearly all have headaches. Headaches are a sign of Bright's Disease. Nervousness, Thirst, Hot Skin, Loss of Flesh: these are other symptoms.

Who would suppose he was dangerously sick when he simply had these symptoms?

Yet Bright's Disease often has hardly any others, outwardly, and is still one of the diseases most dreaded of physicians.

If it is allowed to run on too long it is incurable. Even in the beginning, ordinary drugs are often unable to help it.

But Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills will cure all cases of Bright's Disease if taken before the kidneys are so worn out that renewing them is impossible.

Most sicknesses are caused by the kidneys, because it is the kidneys which are supposed to keep the blood pure.

When the blood is impure, it causes just the same symptoms as mentioned above for Bright's Disease.

If, when we are sick, we would take Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills, we would cure Bright's Disease if we had it, and in any case we would purify our blood and relieve the symptoms which made us feel sick.

Hobb's Sparagus Kidneys Pills are made from the roots and stalks of the Asparagus Plant under a special process.

They have a tonic and healing effect upon the kidneys. They repair the effects of overwork, worry, excesses, etc. They strengthen and nourish the organs and give them new vitality.

Kidney troubles caused by wounds or bruises can be cured with Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills.

The kidneys filter our blood. They keep it pure and free from poisonous matter.

When our blood is impure we suffer from Bright's Disease, Diabetes and other kidney diseases, and from Rheumatism, Gout, Anaemia, and other blood diseases.

The cure would be to take Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills.

By curing the kidneys we would make them purify the blood, and thus would cure all kidney and blood diseases from which we might be suffering.

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills are for sale by all druggists, or will be sent to any address by mail, prepaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box.

Valuable pamphlet on the subject mailed free on request. Hobb's Medicine Co., Chicago or San Francisco.

LESSONS IN FIRST AID

A TRAINED NURSE TELLS ABOUT QUICK REMEDIES.

Treatment of Dislocations and Sprains How to Place a Bandage—An Improvised Tourniquet What to Do In Cases of Nosebleed and Burns.

She was a very capable little woman and usually "rose up" to any occasion, but the case of the children was likely to prove a little too much for her.

When she married a widower and undertook the care of his five boys she knew that she would have to face many unexpected situations, and braced herself to do her best. She was not prepared, however, for what she called the "breakage" in the family. The constant risk to life and limb that five active, sport loving boys were capable of was a new feature in her young life, and she felt that she was in danger of losing her head unless she prepared herself to meet the different calls upon her motherly care.

In her extremity she appealed to her friend, the trained nurse.

"Can't you give me some points," she said. "Tell me of the proper things to do before the doctor comes in case of certain accident—won't you? Then there are many little things—bruises and burns and things that I could attend to myself without sending for a doctor if I only knew how. Do help me out. Suppose, for instance, one of the boys fell and broke his arm, what should I do before the doctor came?"

"If I were you, I would do nothing but wait, unless the surgeon was delayed. In that case I would simply place the limb in between a folded pillow, fastening the pillow firmly together, thus making a sort of splint.

"You will very likely have a sprain or two to deal with. You can either apply cloths saturated with ice water until the swelling disappears, or you may use very hot water with vinegar in the same way. After the swelling has disappeared you had better bandage the limb and let the little patient rest it on a level until it gets strong."

"But I don't know how to apply a bandage," was the forlorn reply.

"Then it is about time that you did," said the trained nurse. "Give me a piece of muslin and your bare foot, and I'll show you how."

Then the nurse took a piece of muslin and tore it into strips of 3 inches in width. Then saying, "Always begin at the extremity of a limb and work toward the center of the body from left to right," she placed one of the ends of the strip at the instep and made a turn around the base of the toe. Then she carried the band diagonally over the foot, across the point of the heel and back from the other side, until it coincided with the first turn. This was then covered and carried a second turn around the heel half an inch higher than the first. She then continued to make alternate turns under the sole and behind the heel, crossing over the instep until the entire foot was covered. In finishing the bandage she split the last quarter of yard of the strip through the middle, wound the ends in opposite direction around the limb and tied them in a bow.

Then the band was all unwound again, and the pupil, trying her hand, was delighted to see what a "firm bandage" she could make after two or three attempts.

"In case of dislocation," continued the nurse, "there is always need of instruction. Muscular tension increases rapidly and its reduction becomes more difficult with every hour that passes.

"Fingers and thumbs can be set by pulling in place, but be careful not to use too much force. A joint is always weakened after dislocation and should be strapped in place until strength regained.

"Freddie's nose bled awfully the other day and frightened me so because I could not stop it. It stopped itself after awhile, but what should I have done?"

"It is a good thing to press gently the facial artery at the base of the nose and place cold applications to forehead and neck. If you had him lean his head over a basin. Yes, most people do, and that is just the worst attitude in the world. You should have made him stand erect, throw his head back and elevate his arms, while you held a cold, damp sponge to his nostrils. If you have an occasion like that again, and the bleeding continues after what I have told you to do has been tried, you had better syringe with salt and ice cold water or a solution of iron.

"In the case of burns or scalds, if they are very bad send for your physician, but slight ones you can very well attend to. The first thing in such cases is to exclude the air. I find that baking soda and sweet oil make a soothing, healing application. If you can't get that conveniently, beat up the white of an egg and apply that with a bandage."

"Will you tell me how to stop the flow of blood in case of cut, and then I'll let you go?"

"Find the artery that is cut and tie a handkerchief around the limb just over where it bleeds. Tie the handkerchief tightly; then make, say, three hard knots. In the last knot insert a piece of stick with which you must twist the handkerchief until it is tight enough to stop the flow. The handkerchief and stick make as good a tourniquet, as we call it, as any one would wish."—Philadelphia Press.

DISTINGUISHED REPUBLICANS.

An Unusual Gathering of Party Leaders in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov 20.—Politicians from all parts of the country are registered at the Fifth Avenue hotel. Most of them claim that their visit has no political significance, and yet conferences between prominent leaders were not infrequent yesterday. Conspicuous in the lobby were ex-President Harrison, Senator Sherman of Ohio, Senator Julius C. Burrows of Michigan, Congressman Galusha A. Grow of Pennsylvania, General James S. Clarkson of Iowa, Congressman J. G. Cannon of Illinois, ex-Senator Warner Miller of New York, Joseph H. Manley of Maine, Charles W. Hackett of Utica. Senator-elect Hobart Krum of New York and ex-Mayor Oliver of Pittsburg.

Senator Burrows, when asked his opinion in regard to Republican presidential candidates, said:

"The woods are full of able Republican candidates. I only wish it was so we could elect fifteen presidents at once, in order to gratify the ambition of every one. A four years' term will not permit every one to serve as president."

The senator then, referring to the Democratic party, said that he thought President Cleveland would be renominated.

"What about the recognition of the belligerents in Cuba? Will it be done by congress?"

"It may be done, and if so it will give the struggling Cubans some advantage. But, on the other hand, it will make this government responsible to Spain for all damage done to Spanish commerce by vessels fitted out here. Resolutions of sympathy may be passed. But one thing I believe will be done, and that is a declaration by congress upholding the Monroe doctrine. The Monroe doctrine has never been acted upon by congress, but it is not too late."

Congressman Galusha A. Grow was decidedly in favor of recognizing the struggling Cubans as soon as possible. He said he would not be surprised to see a joint resolution passed soon after congress met expressing sympathy for Cuba, and asking that the patriots there be recognized as belligerents.

Senator Sherman said that such as Cuba, Venezuela and the Waller case were too grave to be discussed at this time.

Fatal Sweat Shop Fire in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Fire broke out yesterday in the basement of the six story factory building at No. 98 Clinton street, in which about 200 persons were employed, most of them in tailoring sweat shops. One man, thus far unidentified, perished by suffocation. The firemen helped many of the inmates out of the building, and the others made their way to the ground by means of fire escapes. Meyer Lipschutz, an employing tailor, jumped from a fourth story window to the pavement, and he suffered internal injuries from which he will die. His brother, Louis Lipschutz, leaped to the roof of a three story building adjoining and received severe contusions of the back and serious internal injuries. Mary Belzinger was run down by a fire chief's wagon, and may die from her wounds.

Police Raid the Atlanta Midway.

ATLANTA, Nov. 20.—The city police closed four shows on the Midway because they were giving the coochee coochee dance or immodest exhibitions by women. The shows closed were the Trocadero, Living Pictures, the Beauty Show and the Gypsy Village.

Death of Cardinal Bonaparte.

ROME, Nov 20.—Cardinal Bonaparte died as the result of apoplexy yesterday. Cardinal Lucien Bonaparte was a cardinal priest, the second in order of precedence. He was born in Rome, Nov. 15, 1825, and was created a cardinal March 13, 1865.

Young Bernheim Indicted for Murder.

NEW YORK, Nov 20.—Jacob Bernheim, the 14-year old boy who confessed to the killing of the restaurant keeper Kramer on the night of Nov 9, was yesterday indicted for murder in the first degree.

Brothers Killed by Falling Rock.

OAKLAND, Md., Nov 20.—Charles and Henry Shaffer, brothers, were killed near here yesterday by a fall of rock in a stone quarry where they were employed. Both men leave families.

San Francisco May Get It.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 21.—The statement that Hon. J. S. Clarkson had written to a friend in Pittsburg telling him to rent rooms for the national Republican convention, there being no reservation in the letter, has not been confirmed. And now comes another story. During a recent meeting here, at which were present quite a number of Ohio politicians friendly to Governor McKinley, it was given out "confidentially" that twenty one members of the national committee had pledged themselves to San Francisco. If this is true, San Francisco has only five more members to get to secure the convention.

Sale of the Hallock Farm—Many Dehorned Cattle.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

—The farm belonging to the Richard Hallock estate was sold to Mrs. Honora Cleary for $2,500. This is a fine farm of 116 acres, and is worth nearly twice the amount paid for it. Mrs. Cleary, the lucky purchaser, is now the owner of four farms, and will, next year, milk a dairy of seventy-five cows.

—The custom of dehorning milch cows is growing. About half the cows in Greenville and Mount Hope townships have been dehorned this fall.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

—John Morrisey and wife have returned home for the winter. They took charge of a large boarding house at Monticello during the summer.

—W. H. Elsworth is improving his house by building an extension. He can accommodate a number of city people next year.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cammer, of Pepacton, Delaware county, visited on the Beaverkill, last week.

—E. D. Maynard seems to have more than his share of bad luck. First a colt he was leading reared up and threw and trampled on him; next a cow was good natured enough to kick him so badly that he is very lame.

—Daniel Ackerly was kicked by his horse, on Monday.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Heart Failure.

Often first manifested by extreme general debility, with sudden reactions for the better; a general dying out of the fires of life, that brighten up at intervals, giving hope of returning health, but eventually subside, go out on the spot, and another "dropped dead on the street" is reported. A general collapse of the great vital centres, due to a lack of sufficient nourishment is the cause. In such cases take and live to join the great army who today sing its praise. Dr. P. B. Carpenter, of 430 Friendship St., Providence, says, "I have never seen a case of general debility which Bovinine failed to cure, when taken as I directed." It cures in every instance where mal-nutrition is experienced. It is not a medicine, but a powerful condensed food that makes blood, flesh and bone, and by invigorating the life-generating organs dispels disease.

C. MACARDELL, PUBLISHER.

GEORGE H. THOMPSON, O. MACARDELL, } EDITORS
J. F. ROBINSON, A. F. NICKINSON, } CITY EDITORS
O. MACARDELL, JR., - BUSINESS MANAGER

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 20, 1895.

In selecting the new Board of State Assessors, whose appointment was announced, to-day, Gov. Morton turned down two aspirants for official place, Hon. Joseph Dickey and Hon. John C. Adams, of Newburgh.

Two Union College students are under arrest, in Schenectady, charged with many burglaries. Four boys have confessed that the wrecking of the Central's mail train, at Rome, yesterday, by which two men were killed and eleven injured, was their work. "The youth of a nation are its hope and strength."

The esteemed Press edited the report of the proceedings of the Board of Supervisors which it printed, yesterday, by cutting out the words "Tax Rate 3,24" from Comptroller Roberts' official notice to the Supervisors in regard to Orange county's share of the State tax. Perhaps this is good politics but it's mighty poor journalism.

Secrerary of Agriculture Morton in his annual report, discusses the future of the agricultural interests of the country. He points out that the market value of farm lands has depreciated not merely because of the low prices of agricultural products, but because of the fact that vast areas of virgin soil were offered settlers at merely nominal prices. Nearly all of the new land in the far West that is susceptible of profitable tillage has, however, been taken up and Secretary Morton is confident that from this time on there will be a sharp advance in the values of farm lands. On this subject he says:

"The value of farm lands being governed by the relation of the supply of those lands to the demand for them, will steadily increase. The area of supply remains stationary, or from careless tillage decreases. But the added millions of our population augment and intensify demand. Therefore the prices of farms must in the next twenty years, and possibly in ten years, advance more markedly than those of urban real estate. The owner of fertile fields, however, must understand now that agriculture is swiftly becoming a scientific profession. The more the farmer cultivates his mind the better and more profitably can he cultivate his fields."

A RELIC OF THE CRIGINAL ERIE.

Stringers on Which the First Track Was Laid Uncovered at James Street.

While excavating for the water main under the Erie tracks at James street, Monday, workmen came upon two interesting relics of the original Erie,—the stringers on which the first track was laid.

The timbers, which were about a foot square and in a fair state of preservation, were found a little more than a foot beneath the surface. They were six feet apart, for until about twenty years ago the Erie was a broad gauge road. In the early days of railroad building heavy rails laid on cross ties were not used but instead light straps of iron spiked to heavy timbers, which were laid end to end on either side of the roadbed. It was these stringers which were unearthed, yesterday.

An old citizen to whom an Argus reporter spoke, to-day, concerning the uncovering of these relics of the past said that in the days of strap rails travelers on railroads had to face a danger now unknown. The rails, when loosened by the passage of trains, had a cheerful way of bending up as trains passed over them and of poking themselves through the floors of the cars, sometimes causing serious injury to passengers. Accidents of this kind were of such frequent occurence that passengers were very reluctant to occuy seats over the car wheels and much of the preference now shown for seats in the central part of cars is a result of the unconscious survival of the prejudice against end seats that existed at the time when "snake ends" enlivened travel by crashing through car floors.

A Successful Operation.

Dr. W. J. Nelson performed a very successful operation in the removal of a fibroid tumor from the neck of Mrs. P. B. Hartfort, of this city. The tumor was in close proximity to the carotid artery and jugular vein, which made the operation a dangerous one, but it was performed by the doctor with a success which bespeaks his skill as a surgeon.

OBITUARY.

George Green.

Mr. George Green, a lifelong resident of the town of Crawford, died at his home near Bullville, Tuesday, Nov. 19th, after a lingering illness, of inflammation of the bowels, the result of a cold, contracted while at work in the harvest field in August last. He took to his bed Oct. 20th, and though everything was done for him that medical skill could suggest he grew steadily worse. He realized that this was his last sickness and waited patiently for the final summons. He was in his seventy-third year.

Mr. Green was the son of the late James and Rebecca Kesler Green and was the last survivor of a family of four brothers and one sister. His father was a weaver by trade and after working at that trade for many years, he bought a small farm near Walden, on which he lived for a time. Then he bought what is known as the Spencer Bull farm in Hamptonburgh, but through a defective title, lost $1,600 on this purchase. He then bought a farm at Bethlehem and in 1833 bought a tract of 330 acres in the town of Crawford, which he afterwards divided into three farms, which he gave to his sons, Ezra, Sutton and George, the homestead falling to the latter.

On Sept. 7th, 1843, the subject of this sketch, married Jane H. Hallock, who survives him. Nine children were born to them as follows:

Nathaniel M.; Catherine W., wife of Wm. G. Hawkins, of Derby, Conn.; Josephine, wife of Moses Hawkins, of Goshen; Frank Pierce, of Brooklyn; William H., who died while attending the Chester Academy, March 4th, 1872, at the age of eighteen years, two months and twenty-four days; Sarah P., wife of Joseph D. Brinkerhoff, of Middletown; Edwin R., married and resides in Middletown; Charles H., born Dec. 25th, 1860, and who died Dec. 9, 1885, at the Hudson River Institute for the Deaf and Dumb, and George S., who since his marriage to Carrie E Mackinson, of Stony Ford, in Oct., 1884, has resided on the homestead with his parents.

Mr. Green was a lifelong Democrat and his political faith was of the kind that never faltered or wavered. He was elected an assessor of the town of Crawford many years ago and he served so intelligently and satisfactorily that he was re-elected for term after term. He served to all for thirty years. He declined a re-election several years ago.

Mr. Green was a very successful farmer and brought his place to a high degree of productiveness and fertility.

The funeral will be held at the house, Friday, 22nd, at 2 p. m. Interment in the family plot at Bullville.

Levi Lateer.

Levi Lateer, better known to his numerous acquaintances as "Dominie" Lateer, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. F. L. Elston, of Coleville, N. J., Monday morning, at 11 o'clock, aged eighty-four years.

Mr. Lateer is survived by the following sons and daughters: Mrs. F. E Elston, Coleville; William Lateer, near Coleville; Mrs. D. C. Hallock, Greenville; Mrs. J. J. Ayers and Mrs. D. W. Benjamin, New York city; J. Emmet Lateer, Tri-States; Mrs. Ira Clark, Westtown, and Mrs. Loren Keller, Wilkesbarre, Pa.

Hon. William Owen, a prominent farmer of Vernon township, N. J., died, early Monday morning, at his home, in Owen, Sussex Co., N. J. He had been in poor health for a long time. He was a son of the late Robert Owen and a brother of Mrs. Joseph Dunning, of Dolsontown, Mrs. Jonathan Sayer, of Westtown, and of Misses Eliza, Emma and Belle Owen, residing on the homestead farm. A Pleasant Surprise Party.

Fourteen couples from this city drove to Howells, last evening, and gave Miss Louise Mapes a surprise. As all were warm friends of Miss Mapes it is needless to say the surprise was a pleasant one.

The guests came provided with an abundance of good edibles, which were served during the evening.

WANT TO BE FIREMEN.

Colored Citizens Propose to Organize a Fire Company and Run With Excelsior's Old Truck.

Some of the dusky dwellers on Fulton street have long aspired to membership in the Middletown fire department, but have not seen just how they could manage it owing to the unreasonable color line prejudice of the city firemen who have had no use for gentlemen of color except to brush the dust off their apparatus on parade days.

Now, however, the colored men and brethren think they see their opportunity in the shape of Excelsior's old truck and they propose to grasp it. Their preference would be for a steam fire engine, but just now that is beyond their reach and the old truck will do very well I thank you—for a starter.

At a meeting last week the subject was discussed and it was decided to ask the Common Council to allow the company to organize and to turn over Excelsior's truck to it.

Members of the other companies do not take kindly to the scheme of organizing an off color company, and when colored citizens make application to the Council for admission to the department the liveliest kind of a kick will undoubtedly be made against their admission.

FELL AND BROKE HIS LEG.

A Butcher's Assistant Trips on His Apron and Sustains a Bad Injury.

Fred Hoeber, a young butcher employed by Mr. Andrew Brown, the North street marketman, was taken to Thrall Hospital, yesterday afternoon, suffering from a fracture of the ankle bone. He was carrying a quarter of beef into the market when, in ascending the steps, his foot caught in his apron and he fell heavily.

Mr. Hoeber is a New Yorker and has only been in this city for a week. The day of his arrival he was riding in one of the market wagons when the tail board gave way and Mr. Hoeber was thrown out, receiving several bruises about the face.

AGAIN OUT OF BRICK

Work on the East Main Street Pavement Again Suspended.

The supply of brick for the East Main street paving job gave out again, this morning, and the work is at a standstill. The pavement has been completed on the north side of the tracks from Academy avenue to Franklin Square, and the pavers had reached East avenue on the south side of the tracks where they were compelled to suspend operations.

Providence has been unusually kind during the progress of the work,—a great deal kinder than the Catskill Brick Co.

Orr Bros. and Inspector Bastain are thoroughly disgusted with the Catskill concern. They don't know when to expect another shipment of bricks, but the inspector states that the arrival of the brick will be heralded by seven strokes of the fire alarm bell

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH DIRECTORY.

A Complete Little Book That Should Be in the Hands of all Members of the Church.

St. Paul's Church directory, a very complete little pamphlet, has just been printed at the ARGUS office. It is published by D. N. Freeland Blakney, of Meadville, Pa.

It contains a portrait of the pastor, Rev. Dr. Wilson, and lists of members of the church, the Sunday School and the societies connected with the church.

We find by an examination of the book that the church has 870 members; the Sunday School 496 scholars; the Epworth League 237 members, and the primary department of the Sunday School 119 members.

The directory is to be sold at fifteen cents and is well worth it. The directory contains the name and address of every member of the church; the names of all the pastors and a historical sketch of the church and much other valuable information.

Hood's Is Wonderful.

No less than wonderful are the cures accomplished by Hood's Sarsaparilla, even after other preparations and physicians' prescriptions have failed. The reason, however, is simple. When the blood is enriched and purified, disease disappears and good health returns, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the one true blood purifier.

MORNING ON THE "HEIGHTS."

A glorious morning! Where the city lies,
Far down below us, rests a foggy sea,
Its edges curved around the hills that rise
Outlined against the west. Far off and free
Ring out the factory bells, their rhythmic sway
Calling the toilers to a newborn day.
Then all is still, until a distant train,
With rush and rumble winds across the plain,
Invisible, beneath the airy veil, to me,
As cabled message passing through the sea.
I listen to the river murmuring low
And think of those who listened long ago.
It seems a thousand pulses to awake
The world once more, and this sweet silence break.

—Clara B. Heath in Good Housekeeping.

A WASTED LIFE.

I first met the deacon under rather odd circumstances. A persistent touch of rheumatism under my left shoulder, which defied liniments and plasters, sent me to the Hot Springs, seven miles north of Boonopolis, southern California.

To reach the Hot Springs the traveler crosses five miles of desert country, where the cactus flourishes like the green bay tree, and the coyote shrills at night his peculiar lay. Then he climbs "the grade," a rise of 1,000 feet in two miles. This part of the way is over a mountain road which skirts precipices and winds in and out among canyons in a way that makes timid people dizzy.

One beautiful winter afternoon Deacon Hardwicke started for the hotel. That morning he had procured at Boonopolis a livery team and a driver, and had been taken to different points about the valley, looking at lands which were offered for sale. Having completed his inspection, he was driven to the foot of the grade, and there he dismissed the team.

He had in his hands a little black leather wallet containing deeds, and, as he walked along in his slow and dignified fashion, his eyes bent on the ground, he looked like a gentleman of leisure, perhaps a wealthy eastern tourist out for an airing.

At the foot of the grade is a little ranch house, and just beyond the road makes a turn almost at right angles and skirts the edge of a canyon, where the traveler is hidden from view in either direction.

In this angle of the way a man was waiting for the afternoon stage, which was about due. It carried the mail for the hotel and sometimes considerable express matter, to say nothing of the passengers.

But the deacon happened to come first, and as he turned the corner, plodding slowly along, he heard a smooth, clear, firm, but not impatient voice say:

"Wait a moment, sir. And kindly hand over that gripsack and your money."

Glancing up, the deacon beheld a big revolver pointed at his head.

Deacon Hardwicke was surprised and grieved. He was not a coward. He had lived in many a lawless community, had seen men lynched, had himself been a target for bullets more than once. If he had been armed, he would have fought—as he afterward assured me.

But the appalling fact flashed over him that he had no "gun," and that the gentlemanly stranger "had the drop" on him.

"Come," said the highwayman in a more threatening tone, "I mean business. Drop your wallet. Give me your money, or I'll let daylight through you."

The deacon halted and shook his fist at the man. What he said is not material to this recital. Then he turned and ran down the grade.

The highwayman fired twice, and the deacon afterward stated that the balls whistled by in close proximity to his head. The shots flustered him. He stumbled, tripped and fell. He bruised his shins and tore the skin from his wrists. The wallet flew from his hand, and he lay in the road, howling with rage and pain.

The marauder advanced leisurely and picked up the wallet. Just then the stage, which was a trifle late, as usual, rolled slowly around the turn in the road.

The deacon's assailant leaped down the steep bank of the canyon and rolled headlong among the chaparral.

The remarks of the passengers on the stage, which picked him up and brought him to the hotel, did not tend to make him better natured.

"Guess it was all a fake." "I didn't hear any shots." "More scared than hurt." These were some of the whispered comments that came to the deacon's ears.

"If I had only had a gun," he said to me, "that fellow would never have got out of there alive. It's the disgrace that hurts. I don't see how I was careless enough to leave my gun at home these times," he said, with tears in his eyes.

"Do you think you would know the fellow should you see him again?" I asked.

"I should know him anywhere. He is short and wiry, dark hair, mustache, no beard, black eyes. And there is a great, red, flaming scar across his cheek—knife wound, I reckon."

"I'll tell you what we'll do," I said. "Let us go to Boonopolis and find him. He will soon see that there is no pursuit, and will certainly go there. Perhaps we can arrest him yet."

Boonopolis at that time was only an infant among the cities of southern California. There were huge gaps among its business houses, now filled with stately edifices. There were no pavements, and where 100 globes of electric fire now glare at night upon the passerby there was then only the dim and fitful gleam of lamps from the windows of the scattered stores.

After an elaborate supper at the Transcontinental, served by retired cowboys from Arizona, we sallied forth to visit the saloons and gambling places in search of our robber. We made three or four circuits of the town without success, and finally found ourselves in the Magnolia club rooms.

I was enjoying the character of amateur detective hugely. So far there was a pleasant tinge of excitement—or rather an expectation of excitement—and very little danger. But as we scanned the faces of the company without seeing our man the deacon's brow grew black with disappointment.

It was now after midnight. The cigar store was closed, but the bar was kept open all night. Disappointed in our search, we became absorbed in watching the game.

There is something of the gambler in every man, and as I looked upon the tense, excited faces of the players the contagion of their example seized me, and I felt in my pocket for a coin. Finding nothing but silver, which I did not like to stake, as there was none on the table, I was on the point of borrowing a double eagle from the deacon when I heard a quiet but distinct voice at the end of the room say:

"Hands up, gentlemen, if you please!"

Glancing around, I saw a man standing at the door leading to the bar, a revolver in each hand pointed at us. He was a short, slight man, with dark hair and a flaming scar across his face.

There was no confusion. One of the loungers quietly placed his back against the door leading to the cigar store and drew two revolvers, which he pointed along the table. Two others, evidently confederates also, stood at ease awaiting the next order. The rest of us lifted our hands simultaneously.

"The gents that are seated will kindly rise," said the voice near the door.

The gamblers rose as one man.

"Now, then. Everybody right about and face the wall," was the next command.

We advanced in two rows to the opposite sides of the room and stood, as directed, ranged against the walls. Then the two confederates stepped leisurely to the table and scooped the gold into a couple of little sacks which they produced from their pockets.

Having secured the money on the table, the brigands proceeded to rob our persons. With a great show of politeness they requested us to give up our watches, money and weapons. The fellow tossed my revolver and my few silver dollars into his sack and grabbed at my watch.

Just then there was a crashing, explosive sound, deadening in the narrow confines of the room—then another—another—and another. Then came darkness, a quick rush of feet, a tumult of shouts and oaths.

It was the deacon, of course. I knew it before the welcomed hurried arrival of men from outside, with lanterns. He had "turned loose" at the door. They had exchanged three or four shots before the light went out, quickly and mysteriously.

The men with the sacks and the money were gone, but the deacon was bending over a form that was stretched upon the floor.

The fellow tried to lift himself upon his elbow.

"I know you, pard," he said. "You're the man I stood up this afternoon. You've held over me this time. I'm gone."

The deacon's eyes softened. He dropped his revolver, put his long arm under the other's head and tried to turn him into a more comfortable position.

"I am sorry for you," he said slowly and simply.

"Oh—it's—all—right," gasped the wounded man, evidently speaking with great difficulty. "I came—into—the—game—on—a—bluff—but—you've—called—me—sure."

"Is there anything that I can do for you?" asked the deacon.

"Bend down here," said the man.

The deacon lowered his head, and the other whispered something to him.

"I'll do it," said the deacon.

The next day in the afternoon the deacon and I sat on the veranda of the hotel at Hot Springs enjoying a sun bath and admiring the diversified landscape before us.

"Now there was that young fellow yesterday," said he. "Had he told me who he was I would have lent him $100 to go east, and there he might have amounted to something. He simply threw his life away."

"What did that young fellow say to you?" I asked.

"Told me his name. You would know the family if I should mention it. Wanted me to see that he was decently buried, and to write to his father and mother."

—William M. Hinsdale in San Francisco Argonaut.

Lincoln's Substitute.

It is not generally known that Abraham Lincoln sent a substitute to the war against the south, but such is a fact. During the earlier days of the war it seems to have been the desire of all prominent men in Washington to have a representative in the ranks, and Lincoln was no exception to the rule. At that time there was a minister named Staples in Washington, one of whose sons, then aged 19, had a desire to go to the front. Lincoln heard of him, and after a conference selected him as his representative, and he proved worthy, for he won honor on the field. He survived the war and finally died in Stroudsburg, Pa. The inscription on the stone over his grave reads as follows: "J. Summerfield Staples, a private of Company C, One Hundred and Seventy-sixth Regiment, P. V.; also a member of the Second Regiment, D. C. Vols., as a substitute for Abraham Lincoln."—Philadelphia Record.

In a State of Bankruptcy

—is the condition of our system if the liver becomes inactive so that the germs and poisons can accumulate within the body. Keep the liver and bowels active and we're in a condition of healthy prosperity and have sufficiently well invested capital to draw upon in the hour of need. The liver filters out the poisonous germs which enter the system. Just so surely as the liver regulates the system, so do Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the liver. Keep this in mind, and you solve the problem of good health and good living. The "Pleasant Pellets" have a tonic, strengthening effect upon the lining membranes of the stomach and bowels, which effectually cures Biliousness, Sick Headache, Costiveness, or Constipation, Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Bad Taste in Mouth, Sour Risings from Stomach, and will often cure Dyspepsia. The "Pellets" are tiny, because the vegetable extracts are refined and concentrated. Easy in action, no griping as with old-fashioned pills. As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, take one each day after dinner. To relieve the distress arising from overeating, nothing equals one of these little "Pellets."

MRS. MELISSA ATWATER, of Steuben, Washington Co., Me., writes: "As regards the little 'Pellets,' I think I could not do without them. I do not like to be without them in the house. I have spoken very highly to friends and neighbors of them, and many are taking them through my advertising them. I will say they are the best pill I can take, especially for an after-dinner pill, I think they have no equal."

PINEOLA COUGH BALSAM

is excellent for all throat inflammations and for asthma. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from its use as it quickly abates the cough, renders expectoration easy, assisting nature in restoring wasted tissues. There is a large percentage of those who suppose their cases to be consumption who are only suffering from a chronic cold or deep seated cough, often aggravated by catarrh. For catarrh use Ely's Cream Balm. Both remedies are pleasant to use. Cream Balm 50c. per bottle; Pineola Balsam, 25c. at Druggists. In quantities of $2 50 will deliver on receipt of amount.

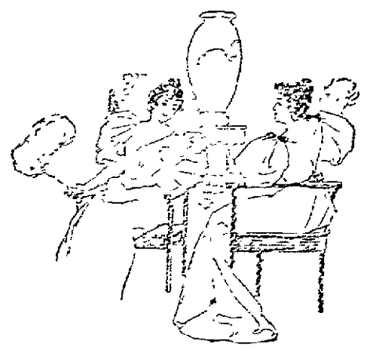
Perils of the Profession.

Athletic Caller—Sir, in your column this morning you spoke disrespectfully of a "red haired chorus nymph" who appeared in a comic opera at one of the theaters last night. I have called to ask for an explanation.

Musical Editor—There was no intention to offend anybody, sir. If the young lady is a friend of yours—

Athletic Caller—Friend! She's my grandmother! That isn't what I'm kicking about. I'm a wigmaker. I made the wig she wore last night, and it isn't red, sir! It's a light auburn and one of the finest I ever turned out. The man that calls that wig a red one, sir, is color blind, or else he's trying to get up a row, and if he wants a free I can accommodate him at the drop of the hat, sir! A man who can't tell a genuine auburn from red needs educating or he needs thrashing. If you'd been in the wigmaking business for five years and had always done good work and some man came along and—oh, you'll straighten it out tomorrow morning, will you? Well, that's all I want. My name's Pingood. Here's my card, and if you ever need anything in my line call around. Light auburn, remember, and will you go out and take a drink? Not this morning? Well, so long!—Chicago Tribune.

A Woman's Reason.



"Why don't you take your music lessons of Mr. L?"

"I don't think he knows anything about music!"

"He doesn't, but just think what a lovely mustache he has!"—Truth.

An Author's Transports.

Morton McMichael III once wrote a book. It was called "A Landlubber's Log," and related the author's experience on a trip around the world in a sailing vessel. It was published in very nice form, but the public did not clamor for it. That must have been ten years ago, and he might have forgotten all about his youthful effort had it not been for a friend who bought a copy. This chap heard in a casual way that McMichael was the author of a book, and immediately repaired to the publisher's and procured his copy. Then he called on the author, and, shoving the book under his nose, exclaimed:

"Sign here, Mac! I've got a copy of your book, and I want you to write your autograph on the title page."

McMichael seemed dazed. "Where did you get this?" he gasped.

"Why, I bought it, of course," was the reply.

"Bought it! Do you mean you paid for it—real money?"

"Certainly."

The author of "A Landlubber's Log" seized a pen as though the whole thing was a dream and might vanish, and hastily wrote: "To my first and only spot cash purchaser. God bless you! Morton McMichael III."—Philadelphia Record.

Out of the Mouths of Babes.

The spark of genius shows itself early in life, and my friend in Woburn has a little girl just beginning her career at school who already exhibits sublime nights of intellect. One blustering, lowering day last week the teacher asked the school children to write their impressions of the weather. The little tots struggled for some time with their imaginations, and in many cases the result was toil.

But not so with my friend's bright little daughter. She sat near the window and watched the falling leaves dashed hither and thither by the chill autumnal breezes. Then she was seen to write something upon her slate and when the teacher approached, the old fellow triumphantly exhibited this brief but wise composition:

"The world is full of wind."—Boston Globe.

Humane Boston Boy.

A boy of Boston aged 6, seems to have an imaginative mind as well as a humane disposition.

Recently his mother noticed that at bedtime every night he laid his little boots together upon their sides instead of setting them upright.

"Please tell me why you always place your boots in that way," she said.

"Why," answered the little boy, "it's because they must be tired walking so much all day. I lay them sideways so they can rest."—Springfield Republican.

Killing Time.

Hoax—Do you know I bought a copy of Longstaff's book last night, and I couldn't sleep until I read it.

Joax—Good joke.

Hoax—No; I was troubled with insomnia.—Philadelphia Record.

A Baby's Life Saved.

ADDISON, N. Y., April 8, 1894.—Hand Medicine Co.:—"I feel it my duty to write you in regard to my little daughter's sickness from teething and indigestion. She is seven months old. Two of the best physicians gave her up. One bottle of Dr. Hand's Teething Lotion relieved her so much that we tried Dr. Hand's Colic Cure also, and at once saw a change for the better. These remedies saved my baby's life.—Mrs. Wellington Brown." Dr. Hand's Colic Cure and Dr. Hand's Teething Lotion sold by all druggists, 25c.

Acts at once, never fails, One Minute Cough Cure. A remedy for asthma, and that feverish condition which accompanies a severe cold. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. W. D. Olney.

"I escaped being a confirmed dyspeptic by taking Ayer's Pills in time." This is the experience of many. Ayer's Pills, weather as an after-dinner pill or as a remedy for liver complaint, indigestion, flatulency, water brash, and nausea, are invaluable.

Relief in Six Hours

Distressing Kidney and Bladder diseases relieved in six hours by the "THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN KIDNEY CURE." It relieves retention of water and pain in passing it almost immediately. If you want quick relief and cure this is your remedy. Sold by J. E. Mills, druggist, Middletown N. Y.

Coughing Leads to Consumption.

Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once. Go to your druggist to-day and get a sample bottle free. Large bottles 50 cents and $1. Go at once, delays are dangerous.

A cup of muddy coffee is not wholesome, neither is a bottle of muddy medicine. One way to know a reliable and skillfully prepared blood-purifier is by its freedom from sediment. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is always bright and sparkling, because it is an extract and not a decoction.

It's just as easy to try One Minute Cough Cure as anything else. It's easier to cure a severe cough or cold with it. Let your next purchase for a cough be One Minute Cough Cure. Better medicine; better results; better try it. W. D. Olney

A Common Danger.

If you have ever had a cold which you permitted to "wear away" it may interest you to know it was a dangerous proceeding. Every cold and cough which is neglected paves the way for consumption, bronchitis, asthma or catarrh. Otto's Cure, the famous German throat and lung remedy, will cure any cough or cold and save you from consumption. Call on J. J. Chambers, 57 North street, near Post Office, and get a sample bottle free.

Rebecca Wilkinson, of Brownsvalley, Ind., says: "I have been in a distressed condition for three years from nervousness, weakness of the stomach, dyspepsia and indigestion until my health was gone. I had been doctoring constantly with no relief. I bought one bottle of South American Nervine, which did me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to use this valuable and lovely medicine; a few bottles of it have cured me completely. I consider it the grandest medicine in the world." Warranted the most wonderful stomach and nerve cure ever known. Sold by J. E. Mills, Middletown, N. Y.

Nine Months In Bed, Cured in Twenty Four Hours.

T. J. Blackmore, of Haller & Blackmore, Pittsburgh, Pa., says: "A short time since I procured a bottle of "MYSTIC CURE." It got me out of the house in twenty-four hours. I took to my bed with Rheumatism nine months ago and the "MYSTIC CURE" is the only medicine that did me any good. I had five of the best physicians in the city, but I received very little relief from them. I know the "MYSTIC CURE," to be what it is represented and take pleasure in recommending it to other poor sufferers." Sold by J. E. Mills, druggist, Middletown, N. Y.

THE MILK FREIGHT CASE.

SECOND DAY'S HEARING BEFORE THE INTER-STATE COMMISSION.

Orange County Farmers Give Important Testimony-General Depreciation in the Value of Orange County Farms As a Result of Competition With Distant Producers.

At the hearing in the milk freight case, before the Inter-State Commerce Commission, yesterday, the first witness was M G. Staples, General Agent of the Erie for New York city. He testified that so far as he knew milk freights were fixed without consultation with other companies. A milk car earned on an average $47 68 p r trip, including the cost of returning the empty cans. The Erie's milk traffic has decreased in recent years, despite the opening of new territory.

H. B. Chamberlain, General Freight Agent of the Erie, was recalled and testified that the Erie and other railroads carried other freight than milk at a uniform rate, irrespective of distance. He could not, however, name any article thus carried, and when Judge Beattie, counsel for the Lehigh and Hudson, tried to help him out by asking if peaches were not carried at uniform rates, he was unable to say that such was the fact.

A DAIRY ASSOCIATION'S FREIGHT BILLS

The next witness was Gilbert Carpenter, a director of the Monroe Dairy Association. In his preliminary examination by Mr. Rowe he said that the association annually sent over the Erie road to New York 54,792 forty-quart cans of milk and 321 cans of cream. The gross receipts for these quantities were $93,-[illegible], out of which $20,628 was paid to the Erie Company for freightage. The association was organized in 1880, and was situated a distance of forty-nine miles from New York, being the centre of one of the districts affected by the uniform rate. Mr Carpenter said he was a farm owner.

RENTS IN ORANGE COUNTY.

Mr. Carpenter further testified that rents for Orange county farms had greatly decreased in ten years. For his own farm he received $600 rent in 1892, $550 last year and only $400 this year. After paying insurance and taxes he had only $170.50 left out of the rent. The assessment on his farm had been reduced from $8,000 to $6 000. There had been a great reduction in the assessments on farms in the vicinity of Monroe. The condition of farms in that section was deplorable because farmers had to compete with distant producers.

THE UNIFORM FREIGHT CHARGE

In the course of further testimony the witness attributed these depreciatory influences to the action which he asserted the railroad companies had taken in carrying the milk of farmers 200 or 300 miles away at the same price that the nearby producers were obliged to pay.

John J. Beattie, counsel for the Lehigh and Hudson road, cross-examined the witness and endeavored to obtain admissions from him showing that the reductions which had taken place in the last ten years in the rates had been a source of benefit to the nearby producers, but the witness persisted in maintaining that the companies contributed, by reason of their uniform rate, to the present bad condition of the farmers in the neighborhood of the terminals.

After recess Mr. F. B. Jennings continued the cross examination and sought to show that high rates were necessary on milk because of its perishable nature. He also tried to get from the witness a statement to the effect that an increased use of condensed milk in the cities had adversely affected the sale of ordinary milk, but the witness declared that he was without knowledge on the matter.

STATEMENTS OF PRESIDENT BULL

Charles R. Bull, the president of the Milk Producers' Association, the petitioning body, was next called, and replying to Mr Rowe, said that all the members of the association were milk-producing farmers. He then proceeded to point out that, through the uniform rates adopted by the railroads, which brought the Western producers into competition with the farmers only a few miles from the city, his income from the three farms which he owned had fallen from one quarter to a third of what it had been ten years ago. He corroborated the testimony that all the farms in Orange county had fallen in value because the city market had been glutted with milk from the west, the nearby producers were unable to dispose of their produce at a profit. He added that milk retailers of New York, who previously bought all their supplies from the neighboring counties, now dealt to a great extent with the distant producers, because they could buy from them on cheaper terms. Since the railways had adopted the uniform price for carriage, he said, the milk trade of the men combined under the Protective Association had dwindled down to an unprofitable level.

The court then adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

TO-DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

BY UNITED PRESS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The Inter-State Commerce Commission heard further testimony, to-day, with regard to railroad charges for carrying milk. Several witnesses testified that thirty-two cents per can was the uniform price regardless of distance.

THE NEW ENGLAND SUPPER.

A Very Successful Entertainment at the First Baptist Church—The Dime Book Collections.

Last night the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Baptist Church entertained a goodly number of the friends of the society with a New England supper, which was a reminder of the hearty and generous feasts of ye olden times. From 8 to 9 o'clock a most enjoyable programme of recitations and vocal and instrumental music was rendered under the direction of Mr. David E Lain.

The programme consisted of two piano solos by Miss Dorothy Cudney, of Westtown; negro dialect reading by Mr. Andrew Hutchinson; two vocal solos by little Miss Bessie Relyea; two recitations by Mrs. A. T. Decker; two songs by the Hutchinson Brothers' quartette; two recitations by Miss Etta Austin, of Unionville, and plantation melodies by Mrs. David E Lain, Miss Cudney and Miss Millicent Lain.

Mrs. J. E. Miller reported, in the absence of the secretary, that on the 100 dime books given out $230 50 had been collected. Mrs. Lillie Walthal had filled the largest number of books—six, a total of $30.

The booths for the sale of home-made candy and fancy articles were beautifully trimmed. The receipts of the evening were about $42, which, with the proceeds from the dime books, makes a good addition to the organ fund.

A FINE BOWLING SCORE.

A New York Man Makes the First 300 Made Under the New Rules.

Charles Starr, a member of the Golden Rod team of New York city, made a score of 300 in a practice game a few days ago. The twelve strikes necessary to obtain the score were made on three alleys.

It is said that Starr's 300 is the first time the score has been made under the new rules, and that among the Metropolitan bowlers the score has only been made twice before, once by W. B Sellers, of Brooklyn, and by G. Wadleigh, of Jersey City, in the year 1890.

THE SCHUBERT CLUB CONCERT

The Dudley Buck Male Quartette to Assist the Club.

The Schubert Club concert to be given next Tuesday, Nov. 26, in the First Baptist Church, promises to be a fine musical treat. The club has secured the aid of the Dudley Buck Quartette, of New York City. The following is what the Brooklyn Union says of this famous club: "It would be difficult to find a quartette equal to this one for tone and training. Its singing is a revelation of the possibility in shading and expression for four well-matched and perfectly handled male voices."

THE Y. M. C. A. SOCIAL.

A Very Large Attendance and All Have a Good Time.

The rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association were filled to overflowing, last evening, on the occasion of the first social of the season. An interesting programme was rendered and most thoroughly enjoyed, after which refreshments were served followed by a social hour.

The Ladies' Auxiliary has decided to hold another social next month.

We all know that any tired muscle can be restored by rest. Your stomach is a muscle. Dyspepsia is a manner of saying "I am tired. Give me rest." To rest the stomach you must do its work outside of the body. This is the Shaker's method of curing indigestion, and its success is best attested by the fact that these people are practically free from what is without doubt the most prevalent of all diseases. The Shaker Digestive Cordial not only contains digested food which is promptly absorbed without taxing the tired digestive organs, but it is likewise an aid to the digestion of other foods in the stomach. A 10 cent trial bottle will convince you of its merit, and these you can obtain through all druggist.

GOSHEN, Nov. 19.—The Board struck a busy streak, this morning, and for a half-hour made things lively in a business way. The clerk had his desk full of petitions, orders and other communications. The first to put in its appearance after yesterday's minutes were approved, was a bulky document which proved to be the report of the Superintendents of the Poor. Chairman Boyd sent it to the Committee on Superintendents of the Poor Accounts for examination. I shall dissect this report for the benefit of the public when it comes out of the hands of the committee.

Three thousand dollars had been omitted from the assessment roll of the town of Wallkill and $100 from Cornwall. They were added to the rolls by order of the Board.

Mr. Durland presented a petition asking the Board to add $8 5, which had been overlooked in 1894. This went to the Law Committee.

By Mr. Thompson's motion the Chair was authorized to appoint four committees of two members each to visit Orange Farm, the Children's Home at Middletown, the Orphan Asylum at Port Jervis, and the jails at Goshen and Newburgh.

The Printing Committee of last year reported their work accomplished, and $753 38 as the amount paid for the printed proceedings of the Board.

Mr. Wood, of Middletown, filed his report as Supply Committee for Middletown. It was sent to the Committee on Miscellaneous Accounts for examination. This is another report which I shall give more attention to later.

A long communication from the State Prison Commission was read. The Board was asked to express, before Dec. 1st, its opinion in regard to the feasibility of having all prisoners, sentenced for one year or less, retained in the county where convicted and compelled to labor on the highways of the county.

The State Commission on Roads submitted a long list of questions with the view of getting information as to the best course to pursue for securing better roads. The matter was filed.

An order from the Supreme Court was filed with the Board in the matter of striking certain illegal assessments from the town of New Windsor. This was sent to the Law Committee.

The afternoon was spent in committee work.

MERITED REWARD.

SALES OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

Unequalled in the History of Medicine. Honesty, Excellence, Faithfulness Fitly Rewarded.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS]

Never in the history of medicine has the demand for one particular remedy for female diseases equalled that attained by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and never in the history of Mrs. Pinkham's wonderful Compound has the demand for it been so great as it is today. From Maine to California, from the Gulf to the St. Lawrence, come the glad tidings of woman's suffering relieved by it; and thousands upon thousands of letters are pouring in from grateful women, saying that it WILL and does positively cure those painful

Ailments of Women.

It will cure the worst forms of female complaints, all ovarian troubles, inflammation and ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb, and consequent spinal weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the change of life.

Every time it will cure

Backache.

It has cured more cases of leucorrhœa by removing the cause, than any remedy the world has ever known; it is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development, and checks any tendency to cancerous humors.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills work in unison with the Compound, and are a sure cure for constipation and sick-headache. Mrs. Pinkham's Sanative Wash is frequently found of great value for local application. Correspondence is freely solicited by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., and the strictest confidence assured. All druggists sell the Pinkham's remedies. The Vegetable Compound in three forms, — Liquid, Pills, and Lozenges.

—Mrs. Susan Timlow, of Gap, Pa., is visiting relatives here.

—Mrs. Kate Gulic is dangerously ill.

The market is full of cough mixtures, but one trouble with most of them is that when they do a little good the patient has to take so much that he gets to loath the taste. Tre Pinoola Balsam is superior to other cough remedies because it is agreeable to the palate and its good effects are immediate. In a few days an ordinary cough is gone altogether. Bronchitis and asthma are more stubborn, but they too are cured by Ely's Pineola Balsam. A remedy worth trying. Twenty-five cents is all it cost.

There are many good reasons why you should use One Minute Cough Cure. There are no reasons why you should not, if in need of help. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. W. D. Olney.
